"You Wouldn't Dare"

A TENSE MOMENT in a scene from the Office of Campus Productions play "Liliom" is created by Edward Heske, Liliom, when he threatens to strike his wife, Joyce Mathewson. The play will be presented at the Klein Friday and Saturday night.

Fate of Prince Valiant Up to Student Body

By JOAN RECK

Prince Valiant's fate hangs in the balance once again, according to the newest developments from the Student Council. Therefore, the question of the week is, "Will the students raise enough money to keep the Great Dane or was the unusual burst of college spirit last Fall just a reaction to the 'Forbidden Fruit'?"

Unless the student body is interested enough to keep a constant balance of $150 in the bank for food and maintenance, the dog will be returned to the owner who originally presented him to the University as a gift. At present, there is barely enough money to support the mascot until March 15.

True to the tradition of the day, the "Ides of March" will tell the final story of the University's mascot. The students on the original mascot committee are unable to continue their work, and no one has given hint of interest.

If this situation is not remedied by March 15, the students will be letting down the University itself, as well as Roland Blais, Frank Stackpole, Patricia Cole, and the other enthusiastic students who nearly wore themselves out making Prince Valiant a success on campus. After March 15th the students will be unable to make any attempts to bring back Prince Valiant.

When the mascot idea was first introduced on the campus, the reaction was enthusiastic on the part of the students and doubtful in the administration's point of

Debaters Invaded UConn & Rutgers

The UB Debating Society affirmative and negative teams will travel to Storrs today to meet both teams at the University of Connecticut. On Friday of this week, the negative team will meet Rutgers University team of New Jersey in the first of a series of two debates at New Jersey. The Bridgeport team's topic on Friday will be: "Resolved: That the non-Communist nations should form a new international organization." Speakers for UB will be Mark I. Ritter, and Harvey G. Burney.

The debating society split a home and home series with the Bellarmine Debating Society of Fairfield University, Feb. 14 and Feb. 21. Wilbur J. Land, Robert F. Bergal, King B. Fraser, and Carlos Luria participated in these events.

Council Juggles Budget As Enrollment Decreases

By GENE VALENTE, JR.

In order to meet the financial crisis caused by the decrease in enrolment at UB, the third Student Council meeting of this semester has been forced to reallocate student funds for the remainder of the year. The original budget was based on an estimated $11,850 from the tuition of 1800 students. However, since student enrolment has dropped to 1450, lack of funds has forced a cut in the budget of $1,100.

SCAC To Investigate Improving School Spirit

By MARILYN SORRENTINO

Improving school spirit will be the major objective to be acted upon by the Student Council Advisory Committee this semester. At the Feb. 20 meeting, a school spirit committee was organized. Its members include Larry Seamon, chairman and vice-president of SCAC; Leo Kney, vice-chairman; Frank Vadis, Bryant Hopper, Dick Handler, Syd Litwak, Ron Brandenburg, Ben Raubvogel, Chick Levanthal, and Suzanne Lefkow.

SUGGESTION URGED

The idea of acting on the problem of lack of school spirit was referred to the SCAC by the student body and the Student Council as an acute problem at the University. Larry Seamon stated, "Anyone having suggestions or interested in working on this project should contact me."

"With the election of new officers and the increase in independence of the SCAC, any student may submit an article for the agenda by contacting Diane O'Hanna, secretary, at Seaside Hall on Mondays before 3 P. M.," announced SCAC president Charles Smith.

REPRESENTATION A MUST

All campus organizations must send a representative to the SCAC meetings on Tuesdays at 4 P. M., in the conference room of Westport Hall. Organizations not represented at the meetings are subject to the jurisdiction of the Student Council.

The organizations represented at the last meeting were the following: Camera Club, Economics Club, Wistaria Hall, French Club, Spanish Club, Sociology Colloquium, Marina Hall, Alpha Gamma Phi, Pi Omega Chi, Debating Society, Sigma Phi Alpha, Marketing Club, SCRIBE, Wistarian, Theta Sigma, Phi Theta Kappa, Stratford Hall, Milford Hall, Biology Society, National Student Association, Social Activities Committee, and Pi Delta Epsilon.

FLU ON EASTERN TRIP CATCHES UP WITH UB

By ILONA SOMYAS

The February winds have announced it this year, and once again the common cold has made its annual bow on the UB campus. Most students, both commuting and the residence hall, have been affected by the epidemic now existing on the Eastern seaboard. For the last two weeks both the men's and women's infirmaries have been occupied to their full capacity.

Many dorms have housed the ill students because of the lack of infirmary space.

The University nurse, Mrs. Doris C. Hoffman has stated that "A marked number of absences from classes in the last week have been caused by the usual winter 'upper respiratory infection'."

Mrs. Hoffman strongly urges the students to observe the ordinary rules of health. Namely to get plenty of rest, to avoid being

NSA Foreign Tours Announced

With the aim of furthering mutual understanding between American and foreign students, the National Student Association announces that it will continue its program of work, study and, travel projects abroad this summer. This program has been in operation for the past three years.

Open to all students of the United States and Canada, the NSA tours fall into four main categories: study tours, international tours, work camp arrangements, and hospitality tours. In addition, formal and informal seminars have been arranged at various European universities.

The costs of the tours range from $350 to $900, including trans-Atlantic transportation, all land transport in the organized part of the tour, room and board, tickets, program expenses, and incidental charges. It does not include, however, tips, personal expenditures, or money spent during the free days provided in the tours.

Because NSA is a non-profit educational group, the tours can be offered at these extremely low prices. The trips are completely student operated, with the student groups acting as hosts in their respective countries, thus offering greater contact with natives, and many special events.

Applications can be obtained by writing to the USNSA Travel Department, Hotel Woodstock, Suite 424, W. 43rd St., New York 18, N. Y. The deadline for application is March 8.

A special student ship, the SS Volendam, will leave from Wolfe's Cove, Quebec, on June 26, and will return to New York on Sept.

15. Since accommodations are limited, and there are quotas for each of the 27 tours, Norden Hahn, Acting Chairman of the NSA Campus Commission at UB, advises students to file their applications as soon as possible.

Final selection of participants will be made by the NSA. After the applicant is notified of his acceptance, he will receive information regarding passports, currency, customs regulations, clothing, and other details pertinent to the tour he has selected.

coming run-down and susceptible to germs, keeping dry in rainy weather, eating three meals a day, and drinking extra juices, milk, and water.

Students are advised to report the first sign of a sore throat, no matter how slight, to the school nurse or to their family physician, in order to prevent the spread of the contagious disease.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests Number 13...THE OCELOT

Our feline friend may not be from Missouri, but she sure likes to be shown! She saw right through those thin, quick-trick, cigarette tests and realized you couldn't fairly judge a cigarette's mildness with a mere one puff or a swift sniff. Right on the spot, she decided they weren't fur her! Sophisticated, but shrewd, she knew what she wanted.

The Sensible Test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke—on a pack after pack, day after day basis. No snap judgments needed. ## Class Officer Election Policy Set by Council

The Student Council announces that the election of class officers will now take place along with the regular elections of council representatives. As a result of these elections, the person receiving the greatest number of votes of his class will be given the title of class president; the person receiving the second highest, vice-president; and the person receiving the third highest, the title of secretary-treasurer. The remaining seats in the student council shall be filled by the other candidates receiving the necessary votes.

The freshman council election will take place in December, at which time the freshman shall choose their class officers and council representatives simultaneously.

Present class officers, as designated by the total vote recorded in May, 1950, are as follows:

Freshman class officers: Walter Lombardo, president; Charles Levine, vice-president; and Marvin Kreiner, secretary-treasurer.

Budgets Get Cut As Student Total Takes Big Drop

carefully reviewed every budget, and it was found that certain organizations could not be cut because of definite financial commitments. These organizations are:
the Social Activities Committee,
the Wistarian, Inter-Hall Council and the Alpha Phi Omega loan.
The SCRIBE and the NSA were reviewed and reduced $300 and $159.28, respectively.

With each budget reduced to a minimum, it was impossible in all fairness to cut any single organization in particular. Therefore, the only solution was to apply a blanket-reduction. This was determined to be 23% after careful scrutinization and debate.

Waldemere Gets Student Proctor

By ROBERTA OLIVER Beverly Jane Hough recently became one of the two youngest student residence hall counselors in the history of UB.

Throughout her two years at the University, Beverly has demonstrated her ability to undertake and hold responsibility by her active participation in numerous student activities. Among these was her record-making tenure as president of Seaside Hall for three consecutive semesters.
She has also served on the President's Convocation Committee, the Interdorm Council and Women's House Government, where she recently served as president.

ACTIVE IN ORGANIZATIONS
Her activities have included the Wistaria Pageant, Bridgettes, and Social Activities. She is treasurer of Phi Omicron Upsilon Sorority.

Beverly graduated from the William H. Hall High School in West Hartford in 1947 and spent one and one-half years at UConn.
In 1949, she transferred to UB, and will graduate from the Fones School of Dental Hygiene in May.

Although Beverly Hough is the youngest residence hall counselor, a precedent was set when Betty Smith took over the duties of counselor at Stratford Hall last Fall.

BETTY ALSO ACTIVE
Betty, 21, a psychology major in her junior year, has the admi-nation and respect of both the administration and the student body by her very active participation in various phases of student activities. Outstanding among these view. Finally, after considerable debate, the dog was accepted as the University mascot; although an official University mascot will be delayed until a later year.

Prince Valiant is, in reality, a trial mascot. If the students fail to support him now, it will be even more difficult to introduce any future mascot on the campus.

The mascot plan, recently revised by the Student Council, includes:

1. A Mascot committee appointed by the Student Council each year, to be responsible to the owner, for the supervision of the Great Dane.
2. The maintenance of a $50,000 liability insurance on the Dane.
3. A surplus of $150. to $200. to be maintained in a local bank account by the Mascot Committee.

Greek letter pledging hits campus with false beards, green hats, and free cigarettes. POC wearers of the green and TS pledges with the perennial plungers keep fraternity brothers supplied with their favorite brands. Theta Sigma takes first step in promoting inter-fraternity good will. Congratulate TS. Hope your new policy of complimentary dance tickets to presidents of other fraternities establishes a precedent. Fraternity social life in full swing with Theta Epsilon's successful semi-formal. The Annual Winter Ball of Theta Sigma, March 9, DEB's St. Patrick's Dance March 16, POC April 6, AGP's Sword and Shield, April 13, and the Gala Greek Letter Dance, April 20th, to be held at the Ritz.

The Inter-Fraternity Council meetings are impressive in the intelligent, cooperative manner in which they are handled. The University may well be proud of this organization. Proposed constitutional policies for the IFC are now being passed and will be drawn up and sent to the Board of Trustees for approval.

PI OMEGA CHI'S pledges week sweeps the campus with twenty green hats and twenty half shaven faces. Initiation night is March 2. Pledge masters are Jack Shields and Russ Severson. Pledge committee is Dick Handler, Ron Gold, and Chuck Levine. Pledges: Phil Carrubba, Harry Dobler, Dave Dougan, Bernie Fixel, Joe Klein, Marv Kreiner, Danny Leeson, Bob Levine, Walt Lombardo, Neil Marshall, Jack Martin, Bill McGrath, Cliff Parris, Ed Pettit, Tom Quinn, Harvey Rehner, Arnie Saperstein, Wally Trautfield, Frank Vadas, and Marv Walter. The POC Spring dance will be held April 6.

ALPHA DELTA OMEGA is holding an induction dinner at Howard Johnson's in Milford for Kenny Brown and Ernie Caldwell.

ALPHA GAMMA PHI extends a hearty welcome back to brother Jerry Compasso, and wishes Jerry Simon the best of luck in the Army. A pledge party was held last Tuesday night. New entertainment committee includes Kevan Broadman, Bill Cunliffe, Dutch Hardie, and Jerry and Sye Shifrin. The Traditional Sword and Shield dance will be held by the fraternity on April 13, at Glorieta Manor. Tickets are on sale now.

BETA GAMMA announces important sorority meeting tonight in Bishop Hall at 7:30. All members are urged to attend.

DELTA EPSILON BETA'S annual St. Patrick's Day Dance, at Glorieta Manor

on March 16th, features a hilarious skit written by brother Tony Gurnari. Make a date with your favorite colleen. Esquire magazine gets competition from DEB pledges on March 12, clean shirts and tie compulsory during pledge period. Pledge chairman is Doug Pimm.

SIGMA PHI ALPHA'S present officers are George M. Metzger, President; Larry Seamon, Vice-President; Francis Kraynick, Corresponding Secretary; William Sparks, Recording Secretary; Theodore Huminski, Treasurer; Anthony Tomano, Alumni Secretary. Pledge period will start the third week of March. Beer party was held last Friday at the Columbus Boys Club.

THETA SIGMA adds to campus color with beards, plungers, and all clothing worn backwards. Pledges: Hal Lever, Mike Stagliano, Joe Kenny, Bob Correy, Norman Michlette, Ed Hall, and Bob Miller. Dudley Savard, the new president, is now setting up committees.

THETA EPSILON held a very successful semi-formal at Glorieta Manor last Friday night for members and friends.

FRATERNITY OF THE WEEK

Theta Sigma fraternity was officially recognized by the University on Oct. 4, 1947. Its members, since its conception, have figured prominently in Student Government and other extra-curricular activities. The tradition and special functions which were established by the charter members of this fraternity have, with the passing of the years, been perpetuated with great pride and extensive indulgence by each successive administration.

Traditions include the annual Initiation week-end, in February, the Annual Winter-Ball coming March 9th which is popularly attended by all students, the Christmas, and the highly impressive initiation ceremonies twice per school year.

A most notable development in expansion has been the first of its kind at this University. Upon graduation from the University, the members will thus be able to maintain the fraternal ties and bonds of fellowship, which they have enjoyed for so long.

A Gentle Hint

Many college publications have been asking their student bodies lately to tell their advertisers that they saw their ads in the paper and were influenced by them to make their purchase at their particular stores. We would like to throw out a gentle hint to do the same. But first, before you will be able to make this statement, you will have to look over the ads and patronize our advertisers.

Too many merchants feel that giving an ad to a college newspaper is just the same as making a donation to that paper. A few words about seeing their ad in the SCRIBE will make the merchant feel that it is doing some good, and will cause him to think twice before he refuses the advertising man on his next call.

Ads in our paper serve three purposes, one to help with your needs. By using the ads in the SCRIBE, you may obtain suggestions as to where you may find articles that you need. Two to help the local merchants who are helping us. And last, but by no means least, to help in the growth of the SCRIBE. Without these ads, this paper would not be in existence. The money allocated to us by the Student Council each year subsidizes only about 40% of the cost of printing the SCRIBE.

From now on, take as your slogan when making purchases at our advertisers, "I saw it in the SCRIBE."

Dear Editor:

The SCRIBE welcomes letters from its readers for publication in this column provided that they bear the authors' signatures, not necessarily for publication. Anonymous letters will not be printed. Letters exceeding 300 words will be omitted or reduced in length at the editor's discretion.

Says Chambault Is Wrong

After spending much time reading the "Billboard," by Bill Chambault, I would like to express my opinion of the column.

First, it is evident from Bill's column that the basis of all his arguments are the direct result of Ted Brennan's departure from the University. Had Brennan remained, the athletic policy would probably not have been attacked.

I disagree with Bill's statement that the University's athletic policy is moving backwards. We are moving forward—slowly, yes, but we are progressing on a sound basis.

In this column it was stated that there are athletes now attending school who are unable to play for some reason or another. Name one!

There has never been any pressure on the coaching staff by UB officials to have winning teams. Instead, they have stressed sportsmanship and fair play first. To me, that is more important than winning. There has never been any complaint made to the athletic department by the players themselves concerning University policy (in athletics). These athletes are here for education (allowing time for study) and are not here just to play basketball or football. Coach Glines has a rule that any player may cut practice if he needs time to study.

According to the "Billboard," a few athletes are "allowed" to work in the dining hall. You will find that NCAA rules require athletes to work for their room and board. UB wants membership in the NCAA. We can never receive that membership if we violate the rules.

Every student and faculty member dreams of a bowl game, a huge gymnasium, etc. President Halsey remarked that some day he hopes to see the University football team play in a bowl game. I am sure he was not referring to the near future.

We need school spirit desperately, but subsidizing will not get it. Look at Rider College: they subsidize, yet attendance at their game with UB was miserable.

Finally, we do not have the money to carry on a rapid expansion of our athletic program. Where is the money going to come from?

Let's not forget that the University is only three years old. Compare the growth of our athletic set-up, in so short a time, with that of much longer established schools. You will find that we are not moving backward, but forward.

An APC Defender.

Watchful Waiting

"Sit tight and crack down on the books."

According to the most responsible authorities—educational, governmental and military—the intelligent attitude for any college student eligible for the draft at the present time is to plan on remaining in college, and work as though improving his grades was the most important immediate goal he could pursue.

This advice is based upon several concrete facts. The first is that much now is in doubt and undecided, and will remain that way until some time after the newly convened Congress has time to enact definite legislation. Therefore, a student could injure his chances for the future by acting inadvicently and rashly.

Secondly, there is strong pressure being put to bear in behalf of the present and prospective college student, to the effect that he be allowed to continue his education as long as he maintains a certain standard. Eligibility for continuance of college education, moreover, is very likely to be construed in favor of all students equally, with no special allowances made for students taking special curriculum. That means that any of us has an equal chance to continue his education, based solely upon his record.

Lastly, the latest reports of the services are that they already have a backlog of enlistments for the "better" branches, and therefore requirements are very likely to be boosted. One requirement already mentioned for future eligibility for a commission in any service is completion of four years college education.

The best advice now is: Seek and take advantage of whatever advice can be had, formalizing a plan which will be of the greatest benefit over the long run. Meanwhile, until things are definite, make the most of what opportunities, in the manner of courses and activities, are open to you, for these are the background upon which your advancement not only in life, but also in the services, should you be called, will depend.

'The Fix' Loses Out; Flu Takes Its Toll

By BILL O'BRIEN

An attempt to "reach" two of our most able basketball players on campus was reported this week closely following the metropolitan college scandals. The players in question at UB were offered many, many, enticing rewards to throw the game. Among these tremendous offerings were three beers and a bag of potato chips, 10 back issues of the SCRIBE, one hot dog with mustard and relish, and / or three free record dedications at the Seawall. Castellucci and Costa came through though, scoring 71 and 28 points respectively for the Hatchetmen.

On the same betting theme, a wager to wade in water to the waist or higher, fully clothed, in this cold, was made by Barbara Collier and Bob Gioscio. The wager, calling for the loser to drink 10 glasses of tomato juice, was won by the young lady when the young man quit at ankle depth. Cold feet.

With Ed "State Street" Heske and Joyce "Little Miss Fill-In" Mathewson in the leading roles of the "Liliom" production by Campus Productions, it should well be worth the while of every student to see the swell show. Sure, use your student activities ticket this Friday and Saturday at the Klein Memorial.

Frank Rizzardi tells the one about the old maid who was shocked at the language of some ditch-diggers working near her home and complained to their foreman, who promised to look into the matter.

"What's all this about profane talk?" he demanded.

"Why, boss," replied Joe, the ditch-digger, "it's nothing at all. Me and Gabe was working there, side by side, and I accidentally let my pick slip and hit him in the head. Gabe looked at me and said, 'Now really, Joseph, in the future you must handle that implement with more caution.'"

Picture of groups taken by the yearbook may be bought for one buck if they are ordered. Drop up to the office of the yearbook, third floor, Westport Hall. Write-ups for these pictures should be in by last week, if not sooner.

The Theta Epsilon dance last Friday night started the social season off with a reverberating bang and the affair was really great, tremendous, stupendous, and dancing too. Mark down these "musts" on your social calendar: March 9, Annual Winter Ball of Theta Sigma; March 16, DEB dance; March 31, Circus Dance; April 6, POC; April 13, Sword and Shield dance of AGP; and the Greek Letter Dance, April 20. Save your shekels, as the dances'll all be great; promise yourself that you'll make a date.

Chuck Ryder: "An American in Czechoslovakia was walking down the street when a native jumped from a second story window and bounced, and bounced, and bounced, and bounced. The American, formerly a New Yorker and used to sights like this, ignored the man and walked on. One block later a policeman arrested the Yank.

"But I didn't do anything," he protested. Said the cop, "Don't get wise yet! You passed a bouncing Czech." (Blame it on Chuck).

Miscellaneous Matters: Visiting on campus: Norm Cormier in Navy uniform, Lt. Joe MacGuire in Army uniform, and Mrs. Ted Ross (Barbara Sinclair) ... Audio-Visual Aids very efficient under new management ... Waldemere Hall refreshments very delicious ... Teri Feldman one year older last week. Theta Sigma and Pi Omega Chi initiations last week really a riot ... It seems as if everyone is down for the count. Seaside infirmary so crowded there is a waiting list at this writing. Walt Johnson giving people that run-down feeling running them down with his maroon and white jalopy.

Marlene Dietrich Great In Revival

by JAMES T. MEHORTER

The current revival of the twenty-year-old German film Blue Angel (UFA) is a poignant example of Marlene Dietrich and Emil Jannings at their best. The Blue Angel is perhaps one of the most important pictures to come out of the precarious twenties. Not only do modern film techniques derive their origin from it, but social history was made by introducing Miss Dietrich and her provocative legs.

The film is an interesting work of romantic realism constructed in Germany's brief liberal-minded period. It was Director Josef Sternberg's first talkie for UFA. Almost immediately after the film was made, both Miss Dietrich and Mr. Jannings came to Hollywood.

Jannings portrays one Professor Rath, a college professor who becomes infatuated with a rathskeller singer (Dietrich) and resigns his teaching post to marry her. However, he does not come down to the world; he ceases to exist; a new man, a drunken, unshaven weakling, takes his place. The tragedy of it all is that a man of integrity has been degraded, not that a post of honor has been smirched.

Miss Dietrich is at her compelling acme. Her appeal is obvious, immediate, and animal; if you try to define it you become inaccurately prurient, if you try to rise above it you sound like a fool. She is consistent, she is subtle; there is logic in the development of her role and she succeeds in bringing the picture home to you.

IM Ping Pong Start Brings Only 3 Entries

The Ides of March draw nearer and nearer, and yet only three names have been submitted for entry in the Ping Pong tournament. Those names received by Tony Iannone so far are Charles Zalinger, UBS; Russell Severson, POC; and Alfred Corso, ZIP. There's still time before the March 15 deadline, so snap to it and get those names in.

KBR Team Leads DEB In Foul Shooting Race

With the foul shooting tourney just under way, a familiar name has taken the early spotlight. Kappa Beta Rho, led by the accurate shooting of Ted Swanko, has assumed first place. The KBR sharpshooters poured in 157 out of 250 shots, which was 40 better than the rupper-up DEB's.

"I shall now illustrate what I have in my mind," said the professor as he erased the blackboard.

HYDRO DYNAMIC Frank Anastas, who has set five individual UB records and has collaborated with tank mates on two others, is set to take to the water in an attempt to either set a new University record or break one of his own.

'Abou Ben Anastas' Saves Slate Disast'rous

By POET PETTIT

Frank Anastas (may his times decrease!) Awoke one night from a deep dream of peace, And saw within the lamplight of his dormitory room, Making it dreary and like a musty tomb, His coach, computing the records which Frank had polled.

Exceeding success had made Anastas bold, And to his mentor in the room he said, "What writest thou?" Tammy raised his head, And, with a look made of all sweet accord, Answered, "The five new records which you have scored." "And is that all?" said Frank. "Nay, not so, There's a relay or two which you helped sew." "Then please," said Frank, "I'm 'RAVEN' to know," Tell me the story, and tell it like Poe.

"Once upon an evening dreary, while we swam, weak and weary Over many an event on the Manhattan shore, While I nodded, nearly napping, suddenly there came a happening, In 50-yards of freestyle you had scored.

Ah, Seton Hall I remember, it was in the bleak December,

And our separate, sinking members, tried in vain to make a score, Eagerly I watched Anastas, with his winning time he splashed us, Forty yards and nothing more.

Presently my knees grew weaker,

The Purple Knights became much meeker,

"Frank," said I, "go get em, Truly Your performance I adore." So for 60-yards you fought 'em, L. I. U., you really caught 'em, Victory there, but nothing more.

Deep into the water peering, Long I stood there wondering, fearing,

Harassed—hoping hopes no mentor ever dared to wish before, But my dreams were shattered, scattered, Kings Point scored And nothing mattered, save another record—the 100—number four.

Now your record spree was ending, Brooklyn Poly was defending, Another mark you were rending—220 yards—and quoth the records nothing more.

Knights - Stags Meet Friday; UB Finale Saturday

By BILL CHAMBAULT, JR.

Seemingly on its way toward its best season since competing with four-year schools, UB's basketball team winds up the regular phase of its 25-game 1950-51 schedule this week with a trio of contests in the State Armory.

Tonight, the Knights battle Brooklyn Poly.

Friday, UB clashes with arch rival Fairfield U.

Saturday, the Purple engages Hillyer College.

FAIRFIELD TOP TILT

By far the biggest of the three is Friday's meeting with the Red Stags. Beaten by a 64-57 margin after falling far behind early in the first half in their initial clash with the Jesuits, the Knights will be looking not only to square matters for the year with Fairfield but also to clinch their first intra-area title.

Having whipped Arnold, 65-63, last Wednesday for its 13th win in 21 starts, eighth in its last 11 tries (excluding Saturday's tilt with New Haven Teachers), Bridgeport will also have another incentive for victory against the Stags.

TOURNAMENT BID?

With the NAIB bid for this area still hanging fire, three teams are still in contention—New Britain, Fairfield and UB. New Britain beat UB but Fairfield toppled both UB and NB. A UB triumph Friday could possibly get the team the nod.

The Knights will be facing Brooklyn Poly for the only time this campaign, while the Hillyer encounter is a return of a home-and-home series. UB prevailed earlier by 81-54.

The score:

| ARNOLD      | G. | F. | P. | UB            | G. | F. | P. |
|-------------|----|----|----|---------------|----|----|----|
| V'derame f  | 3  | 1  | 7  | Seamon f      | 3  | 3  | 9  |

Hatchetmen, Castellucci Set Marks; KBR Unbeaten

By AL GROSBY.

Led by the record breaking performance of its high scorer, Frank Castellucci, the Hatchetmen have swept through another undefeated season. In the process of wrapping up another Independent League title, the Hatchetmen broke five intramural records.

High Schools Compete In Cheerleading Clinic

Thirty-five high schools will compete in the second Annual Connecticut High School Cheerleading Clinic to be held at the Bridgeport Armory, March 10, under the auspices of the University. The clinic will include a contest along with demonstrations and criticisms of the high school groups.

In charge of the clinic are Anthony Iannone, co-ordinator, and Miss Elizabeth Herlihy, UB cheerleading adviser.

Judges will be Max H. Andrews, co-ordinator of cheerleaders, University of Connecticut; Robert O. Harris, cheerleading team captain, Columbia University; and Miss Evelyn M. Rose, director of physical education and in charge of cheerleading at White Plains

Castellucci established three of the records while the team set the other two. Frank now holds the title for the highest scorer in the league with 167 (old record 118); highest scorer, one game, 71 (old record 57); most field goals, one game, 35 (old record 28).

His teammates now hold the high season total record with 417. It formerly was 388. The squad also holds the record for the team scoring in one game, with 140. The old mark was 122.

The well-balanced Kappa Beta Rho squad continues to pace the Fraternity League. With three games to go, the KBR quintet is intent on breaking at least one Fraternity League record. Their season's point total of a year ago, 314, seems to be the only record within their grasp.

(New York) High School.

The high schools which have reserved places include Ansonia, Bacon Academy, Bassick, Branford, Bristol, Crosby, Deep River, Derby, East Hartford, Farmington, Greenwich, Harding, Hawley, Housatonic Valley Regional, Litchfield, Lyman Hall, Naugatuck, Newington, New Milford, Norwalk, Norwich Free Academy, Old Saybrook, Plainville, Seymour, Shelton, Southington, Stamford, Staples, Stonington, Stratford, Suffield, Terryville, Thomaston, Windsor and Woodrow Wilson.

The Billboard

By BILL CHAMBAULT, JR.

In our controversial column of Feb. 14, we stated the entire athletic program at UB "smells to the high heavens," and dared anyone to deny it. Now, definitely not to our surprise, some sports-minded individual has accepted our challenge and has penned a reply, which can be found on the editorial page.

The writer states that he feels the lone reason for our criticisms of the Athletic Policy Committee, which incidentally are designed solely along constructive lines, was Ted Brennan's departure from UB. He is wrong. Ted's leaving was simply "the straw that broke the camel's back." Sooner or later, a censuring of the APC was bound to come. Actually, Ted's withdrawal only added fuel to the argument that the school makes no honest attempt to aid athletes.

Continuing his essay, the writer remarks that there has never been any pressure on UB coaches by school officials to have winning teams. Perhaps that is why one head mentor's contract is renewed year after year although his ability has been questioned in many quarters. We believe UB officials should experience a change of heart in their attitude toward winning and losing before their apathetic spirit permeates to the athletes. It has already imbedded itself in UB's Athletic Director, who shockingly informed us: "I don't want winning teams at UB. As long as we break even I will be satisfied." When statements of such demoralizing character are authored by the AD, who is also chairman of the APC, then it is no wonder the students' response to UB sports is not greater.

Our well-informed composer (or so he must think himself) cries out midway through his masterpiece; "We (UB) can never receive membership in the NCAA if we violate its rules." Then he presents us the fact that athletes are not allowed free room and board, but must work for same if they need it. My dear fellow-writer, seeing that you appear to know so much about the NCAA and their sanity code, and also having UB's interest at heart, why don't you write another essay to the APC and explain in detail the many regulations of much stronger nature that already have been conveniently overlooked by UB and warn the APC it is jeopardizing the school's chances of obtaining membership into the NCAA.

After reading your entire correspondence, we formulated the impression, perhaps rightly, that you either work in the athletic office or else come in frequent contact and conversation with the Athletic Director. For throughout the entire letter, you (the writer) use the same expressions and list the same examples the AD gave us in an earlier meeting.

You had the same misconception of our ideas for a revamped schedule as the AD did. We tried to clarify our position on that point in last week's column and we hope you read it.

As for the financial end of things, the question is not "Where is the money to come from?", but rather, "Where has the money that has been spent, gone?" Three months ago, a local newspaper asked to see a copy of the football budget, but was refused. Why? Is there something to hide? Why doesn't the APC stop working under cover and put all its cards on the table?

We have been severely criticized by certain members of the APC who believe our remarks are only destructive to the school's athletic program. Yet, last week, when the APC held a meeting it made no attempt to invite the SCRIBE to participate and offer constructive comments and suggestions. Is it because the APC doesn't want to act? Are the members afraid?

We wonder.

'Liliom' at Klein for Two Day Stand

By BEA HORWITH

With cheers for Campus Thunder still re-echoing and a reputation for producing top-notch musicals firmly established, the Office of Campus Productions will prove their dramatic versatility by presenting Ferenc Molnar's finest and most distinguished play, "Liliom," Friday and Saturday, March 2 and 3 at the Klein Memorial.

Albert Dickason, director of OCP, has deliberately chosen this play as evidence that UB can hold its own with college drama groups throughout the country.

First presented in New York by the Theatre Guild with Eva Le Gallienne and Joseph Schildkraut, it was later adapted by the Guild into the musical version, "Carousel."

It is a rare combination of realism, low comedy, and fantasy, woven around a beautiful love story. What happens to the lovers here on earth, and to Liliom, later, in Heaven, forms the basis of the play.

Joyce Mathewson and Edward Heske will portray the leading roles supported by Patricia Cole, Irwin Heibman, Dawn Anderson, Dom Salinaro, James Quigley, Jr., Rick Levine, Richard Probst, Charles Levine, Fred Blumberg, Stewart Baker, Alvin Nilson, Bernard Eisenberg, Billie Jane Elson, and Leo Muldoon.

Besides demanding acting of high caliber, Liliom, with its seven scenes and a prologue, requires unusual scenery changes and effective use of background music. In this production, OCP will use the original Rodgers and Hammerstein score composed for Carousel.

Tickets are now available at the Bookstore. Students are urged to exchange Student Activity Ticket

No. 27 for a theater ticket before the best seats are gone.
